SPOT TITLE: New Baby

WOMAN: (mid 30's, understanding tone of voice) The day we learned we were going to have a baby was the happiest day of our lives. A month later my husband was laid off. Even with my income and his unemployment, we couldn't make the minimum payments on our debt. But then a friend told me about LoanManager.com. With LoanManager.com, refinancing our auto loans was a breeze. In just a few hours, we secured a lower interest rate with smaller monthly payments. After that life got a lot simpler. Thanks to LoanManager.com, we started putting our extra monthly income into the baby's college fund. Now our biggest concern is what color to paint the playroom.
